Collimar's Fiesta Finds a Home and Pal in Redwood City

—Tribune photo

Roberta Lecotis, 441 Nimitz Ave., was about the happiest girl in San Mateo County yesterday when she was presented with a purebred collie puppy for having written the best essay in a contest conducted by the Tribune and Burlingame Advance. Roberta (left) thanks Mrs. Martin J. Sweeney, owner of the dog who offered it as the prize, and R. L. Spangler, publisher of the Tribune, who made the official presentation. Right: Fiesta shows how happy he is with his new mistress by giving her a great big kiss. Roberta's essay on "Why I Want Collimar's Fiesta to Live With Me" was chosen by the judges over more than 200 entries.

Courthouse Annex Plans Under Study

The San Mateo County Planning Commission has started on a preliminary study of the allocation of office space in the courthouse annex which is to be built on California Square.

The study was ordered Tuesday by the board of supervisors. The board wants to know how much space will be needed and what county offices should go in the annex.

Already suggested is a plan to make the annex a sort of hall of justice. Into it would go three or four superior courts, the county clerk's office, the district attorney's office and any other relating to the administering of justice.

Frank Skillman, secretary of the planning commission, said today that several plans already are on file, but would need revision. One of the plans called for the demolition of the old part of the present courthouse and construction of the hall of justice in its place.

Final acquisition of California Square by the county has not yet been achieved, but a condemnation suit is before superior court. The supervisors have stated that the purchase price would be nominal, and that the Redwood City Council has acquiesced in the deal.

Policemen's Ball Set for Oct. 4

Peninsula Police Officers' Assn. members were making plans today for their annual police ball which is conducted Oct. 4 at Bay Meadows.

Officer Theodore Moudakas, chairman for Redwood City, said that tickets at $1.50 per couple could be purchased at the police station. Receipts from the dance will go towards the association widows and orphans fund.

On hand to provide music will be two bands. Steve Sacco's 18-piece band will play for modern dancing in the race track's club house, while Walter Love's seven-piece band will play under the grandstand for old fashioned dancing.

The dance will last from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Organization members are drawn from Atherton, Burlingame, Belmont, Colma, Daly City, Hillsborough, Menlo Park, Mountain View, Redwood City, San Bruno, San Carlos, San Mateo, South San Francisco and Sunnyvale.

President of the association is Sgt. Cole Stafford of Redwood City. A dance was decided upon for the widows and orphans fund when officers learned in the past that the hazardous nature of their work made insurance too costly.

Peterson Not Immune: Schottky

Superior Judge Andrew R. Schottky Tuesday ruled that County Executive Frederick Peterson does not have the same immunity for his actions that judges do.

The demurrer to a suit by Mrs. Vera Fickeisen against Peterson and other county officials was overruled by Judge Schottky after the argument by Peterson's attorney, Gerard Wagstaffe, was submitted.

Mrs. Fickeisen is suing for $20,500 damages, which she claims she sustained when officers, acting under Peterson's orders, "trespassed on her property."

The suit was an outgrowth of the firing of John Fickeisen as county chief sanitarian upon Peterson's accusation that he moved old pipes and lumber from Canyon Sanatorium to his King's Mountain property. The officers visited Fickeisen's home in an effort to get evidence.

Seek Musicians For RC Orchestra

Adult musicians interested in playing with the newly formed Redwood City Community Orchestra were asked yesterday to attend a meeting tomorrow at Sequoia High School at 7:30 p.m.

Robert Smith, director of instrumental music at the high school, explained that the meeting night has been changed from Monday, because of the number of conflicts in the latter time.

Gans Warns: Keep Those Dogs Tied

Dr. Charles C. Gans, San Mateo County health director, declared Tuesday that police departments in incorporated cities are failing to enforce the quarantine on dogs and cats.

The animals are running around in the streets, according to Dr. Gans, particularly in the cities of Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City.

The quarantine was imposed by the health department after a Brisbane woman was bitten by a rabid dog. A dog which also was bitten by the same animal has been seized and is under observation.

Dr. Gans has asked the cooperation of the cities in enforcing the quarantine but said today that the cities are "not cooperating very well."

The state law puts enforcement of quarantine up to law enforcement officers, including city and county poundmen wherever such officials are available.

W. Emerson Smith, chief sanitarian, said that the state law provides that the dogs must be under restraint on the owners' own property and may not be out on the streets even on a leash. The law also states that when confined to the owner's property, the dog must be under restraint, which he interprets either tied up or in some sort of pen from which the animal cannot escape.

Violation of the terms of the state constitutes a misdemeanor, but the penalty is left to the discretion of the judge.

Any officer may kill a dog which is on the street in violation of the state law or may seize the animal and have it confined in a local pound. The northern end of the county, where the rabid dog was found, has best enforced the quarantine, according to Dr. Gans.

Ronald Tucker Hit by 2 Suits

Two suits asking more than $15,000 damages were filed in superior court Wednesday against Ronald Tucker, for injuries incurred last Apr. 20 in an accident at Frenchmen's Creek bridge, two miles north of Half Moon Bay on the Coast Hwy.

Frank Bertolacci and his 4-year-old daughter, Linda, and Kenneth L. Parks, and his 2-year-old daughter Sharon, filed the suits for injury to the children. They were all passengers in a car driven by Domenico Bortolotti, Moss Beach restaurateur, who was killed in a headon collision with Tucker's car.

Anyway, the Car's In a Parking Lot!

A slightly confused woman visitor from South Laguna this week reported to Daly City police she had left her car "in a parking lot somewhere between Santa Cruz and San Francisco," and requested they find it for her.

The woman, Mrs. Irona Stewart, now visiting in San Francisco, was referred to the California Highway Patrol and the San Francisco Police Dept.

PTA Backs Program, 'Will Not Interfere'

The program committee of the Sequoia High School PTA Tuesday afternoon approved for the PTA's year's program a series of symposiums on the school's curriculum prepared by the Sequoia faculty, while Mrs. F. C. Beach, chairman of the committee, went on record as opposing PTA interference in school affairs.

The committee, which Tuesday was composed of eight department heads and school officials, and two PTA members, Mrs. Beach and Mrs. Charles Bersinger, president of the Sequoia PTA, decided that a series of seven symposiums titled "Know Your School" would be the PTA's program for the year.

The titles of the monthly programs, which start in October, include, "What Is Good English Instruction?", "What Is Good History Instruction?", "What Does Sequoia Mean by Social Living?", "What Is Good Health Instruction?", "What Is Good Science Instruction?" "What Is Good Vocational Instruction," and "What Is Good Cultural Instruction?"

Dr. Earl Peckham, curriculum director, said he believed the programs should be about good instruction in general rather than the curriculum at Sequoia because "The latter would sound like blowing our own horn."

The committee decided that the speaker's panel on each symposium would be composed of two faculty members, one parent, and one student. Faculty members on the committee prevailed upon Mrs. Beach to represent the parents on the first discussion.

Each of the seven programs will be arranged by one of the Sequoia department heads, although the parent representative will be chosen by the PTA. Harvey Hall, head of the English department will direct the first symposium.

Mrs. Beach went on record as opposing PTA interference in the school.

"We must never interfere with the administration or the curriculum," she declared; "We must only help the school. We should know about the curriculum, but we must not interfere."

Mrs. Beach said that she hoped they could get people to the meetings this year who didn't know about the curriculum. She said they hoped to reach the people who didn't ordinarily come to meetings.

The committee agreed to allow an audience question period following each symposium, and approved a suggestion by Doris Dean, dean of girls that only written questions be allowed. Miss Dean said that it is easier to frame a question in writing than orally.

The committee also discussed having a mother sponsor for each social living class in the school. The sponsor could follow the course throughout the year and the mothers could help out the teacher in the class, it was pointed out.

Bartender Fined In Bookie Case

John Conlan, 44, bartender at the Club Elite in Burlingame, was fined $250 Monday afternoon by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton. Conlan had pleaded guilty to a felony bookmaking charge.

He was arrested Aug. 29 by Burlingame police, who seized scratch pads and money from cigar boxes. Conlan also was put on probation for six months, in addition to the fine.

Poundmaster Asks For 4 Assistants

Frances Wyman, county poundmaster, Tuesday asked the board of supervisors for four assistants to help in seizing stray dogs and threatened to quit his job if the request was not granted.

He told the board that he had been working day and night, and had impounded 52 dogs since the quarantine was imposed. He added that he was called to investigate four or five dog bite cases a day.

When Wyman stated that unless given aid he would resign to take a job with a San Francisco humane society, Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey snapped back at him:

"If you aren't satisfied, my good man, the sooner you get out the better. I don't like your making threats."

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald smoothed the flare-up over with "he's tired out and upset." The board withheld action until it receives a report on the rabies situation from Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health director.

SM Veteran Faces Charge in Death

Edward Youman, 25, San Mateo navy veteran charged with manslaughter in the Labor Day death of James Ferrelli, Tuesday was held to answer in superior court by San Mateo Municipal Judge Francis W. Murphy.

The decision came after a preliminary hearing in which five witnesses told of events leading to the fight, finding of the body, the next morning and the results of clinical examination of Ferelli's brain.

The case is being prosecuted by George Davis, assistant district attorney.

During the hearing, Defense Council Alfred D. Hennesey of San Francisco attempted to prove Ferrelli the aggressor.

Youmans, a resident of 412 E. Bellevue Ave., was transferred to custody of the sheriff. He has been free on $2000 bond.

Dr. Stuart Lindsay, state pathologist, testified death of the 56-year-old San Mateo cement worker though approximately 16 hours after the alleged fight with Youmans, was due to external force.

Test Set to Name Cooney Aide

An examination will be scheduled some time in December to obtain an eligibility list for assistant county personnel director, according to Russell J. Cooney, secretary of the civil service commission.

Cooney in the meantime plans to interview Ralph V. Nichols, 30, of Los Angeles, the only man left on the old eligibility list. Civil service rules require that one man of three top candidates be picked for the job, but when less than three names are available the applicant may be rejected and a new examination scheduled.

The job was left vacant when Ted Bravos successfully passed an examination for administrative assistant at Community Hospital and was appointed to the post. The assistant personnel director's salary range is $281 to $352 a month.

Ira Potter Named To Red Cross Group

Ira H. Potter, recently transferred to Redwood City as Bank of America manager, has been appointed to the executive committee of the Sequoia Chapter, American Red Cross, Chmn. Louis B. Dematteis announced today.

Potter replaces Henry C. Maier on the executive board.

Jr. Red Cross To Send Gifts Overseas

The Sequoia Dist. Junior Red Cross is making plans for collecting gift boxes for shipment to children overseas.

Articles for educational and health purposes as well as toys will be collected.

The Junior Red Cross also plans to make tray favors for hospitals and lap robes for wheel chair patients. Ash trays and card table covers also will be made. Among other collections will include playing cards, and candle and wax crayon for handicraft work.

Enrollment for service will be held by the Junior Red Cross the first two weeks in November.

Mrs. Harvey Hall, Junior Red Cross chairman, announced at a recent meeting of the teacher-sponsor committee, that the first Junior Red Cross conference for several years will be held in San Jose Oct. 25.

Three Sequoia High School students who went to the Junior Red Cross Summer Camp in the Sierras this Summer will participate in a forum discussion at the conference. They are Barbara Graves, Suzanne Thorpe and Philip Peterson.

Included in the Junior Red Cross in the Sequoia district besides Sequoia High Schools are Redwood City and Menlo Park elementary schools. Mrs. Frederick West is vice chairman.

Monash Shop Adds New Feature

The accent will be on the younger miss as the Monash Shop, 2363 Broadway, opens its mezzanine floor addition.

Store owners explain that the new feature will provide a headquarters for young ladies seeking the latest fashions and will be equipped to handle all their needs, as well as those for the older woman and for infants.

RC Unity Council Hears Sidney Roger

Racial prejudice, the Taft-Hartley labor law, the British treatment of Jews trying to enter the country they regard as their homeland, and the current inflation in this country are all part of the same world pattern, Sidney Roger, radio news commentator, declared at a garden party yesterday under the auspices of the Redwood City Council for Civic Unity.

Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Colby of 127 Almendral Ave., Atherton.

Roger, whose subject was "News Behind the News," was introduced by Forrest Barnes, radio writer.

The foreign policy of this country is being laid down by Wall Street, claimed Roger. That had been demonstrated, he said, in the handling of the Palestine problem, of which oil is the key factor.

Bevin, and apparently the State Department, too, had decided that they did not want to imperil their oil agreements in the Middle East by agreeing to the Jewish desire to set up a homeland there, he declared.

He declared: "In the ballot box for 1948 lies the hope of the world."

Junior Chamber Event Draws 100

Nearly 100 members and their families were present Monday as the Redwood City Junior Chamber of Commerce held its annual picnic at Shangri-la in Santa Clara County.

Featured attraction was the baseball game between Carl Tiedemann's "old men" and George Robertson's "young men" which ended in a 12-9 decision for the aged.

The barbecue was prepared by Chefs Paul Lorentzen and Victor Olownia.

It was also announced that the next junior chamber dinner meeting would be held Oct. 8 at the home of George Fakhouri, 1447 Alameda de las Pulgas, and would feature a crab feed.

It's True: Prices ARE Going Down

A threat of frost and wheat buying by millers reversed the protracted slump in grain prices at the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, but wholesale butter and egg prices continued their downward trend.

Livestock prices, which also moved lower last week, were mixed at Chicago and other markets.

The exchanges and wholesale commodities price levels, which moved generally lower last week, were watched for an indication of whether a turning point in the record high cost of living had been reached.

Mrs. Helen S. Cohen, chairman of the Flatbush (Brooklyn) Consumers and Tenants Council, told a joint congressional subcommittee in New York that "Americans are not eating because speculators in the basic food markets are making millions." The subcommittee is investigating high living costs.

Wholesale butter dropped as much as two cents a pound in New York and two and a half cents at Chicago. Wholesale eggs were unchanged to two cents a dozen lower in Chicago and down as much as four cents on top grades in New York.

A forecast for scattered light frosts in parts of the Midwest and indications of a good flour business over the week end gave the Chicago grain market a strong opening, with wheat as much as 6½ cents higher and corn up as much as 8 cents, the daily limit. However, these were extreme gains and prices quickly stabilized some distance below opening levels.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was 2⅛ to 4¾ cents higher, September $2.80¼, corn was ¼ to 2⅞ higher, September at $2.38¼, and oats 2¾ higher, September at $1.09¼.

Hollywood Aids Chest Opening

A group of Hollywood stars will join representative volunteers from other sections of the country Friday night in a nationwide program opening the annual fund-raising campaigns of the Community Chests of America, it was announced today by Brooke Halsey, local campaign chairman.

President Truman will appear on the program to make the traditional White House address on behalf of the Community Chests.

Jack Benny, Edgar Bergen, Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Margaret O'Brien and James Stewart will participate in the program, in addition to volunteers who will be heard from representative states.

The program will be heard here over all networks at 6:30 p.m.

Meantime, final plans were being made for the Community Chest's kickoff dinner at the Sequoia High School cafeteria Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock. Congressman Jack Z. Anderson will be the speaker.

Optimist Week Keynote Told

Fred Crafton, president of the Redwood City Optimist Club, announced yesterday that "Faith in the Future" would be the keynote of the celbration of Optimist Week in Redwood City by the local chapter.

Five hundred chapters of the Optimist Club throughout the United States and other countries have set aside this week for the 11th annual observance of Optimist Week.

"Our faith in the future can be best reflected in the work we do to make the boys of today better citizens and leaders in the world of tomorrow," Crafton declared.

"The attitude of today's boy is certain to be the attitude of governments and nations in the next generation," he said, "and what happens then will depend upon how we accept our responsibilities toward 'the boy' and what we do with him."

GARDEN: Arrowroot Has Healing Qualities

By ROLLY LANGLEY

In the Caribbean Islands where hurricanes are said to generate, the natives used to generate considerable hatred between tribes and a favorite method of reducing the opposition was letting fly with poisoned arrows.

I guess that's how arrowroot got its name, because the roots of Maranta arundinacea were pulled up and the fleshy tubers were bruised and rubbed on the wounds. Either the poison wasn't too effective or the healing powers of arrowroot are greater than you'd expect from a starchy substance, because there are still plenty of West Indians.

Some related plants have beautiful variegated foliage. Arrowroot is exported because the starch produced in the tubers is quite pure and free from odor. Mixed with water and allowed to cool, it makes a quite transparent pudding. Mixed with milk, arrowhead makes blancmange.

"Dear Mr. Langley," writes August Hughes, "Today I picked a strawberry which is stranger than any I've seen before. Out of the top of the berry is growing several small leaves, giving it the effect of a minute red pineapple."

This note reminded me of a picture I had seen someplace. After checking through several books, I came upon the old illustration which reminds us that there's little new under the sun. This drawing was just as A. H. describes in his note, and was in the August issue of the American Agriculturist for the year 1866.

Comment accompanying the drawing: "We are so accustomed to see flowers depart from their natural form, that the deviation does not strike us as anything remarkable. Indeed our most beautiful double flowers are as far from the natural condition of things as possible.

"A monstrous fruit is more rare than a monstrous flower, and we sometimes meet with cases in which the departures from the usual way are curious . . . We do not recollect to have ever seen before a strawberry such as shown here, drawn from one sent in by a correspondent, yet it is just what we might expect would occasionally occur.

"Though we call a strawberry a fruit in common language, it is not so in the strict sense of the word. The fruit proper is those little grains that we usually call seeds. These are small one-seeded nuts distributed all over or sunken into the surface of the enlarged and fleshy end of the flower stalk or stem. As the strawberry is then a bit of stem, very much changed from the way we usually see stems, and made to serve a certain office, it is not very strange that it should sometimes sport, and that its real nature should mainifest itself by bearing leaves above the 'berry', the actual stem."

George De Paoli of Livermore asks for a good climbing rose. There are many fine ones . . . Climbers can be had of Rose Marie, Etoile De Hollande, Belle of Portugal, Christopher Stone, the small Cecile Brunner, Mrs. Sam McGredy, Pres. Herbert Hoover, and many others.

His next question, "What bush rose is best for Livermore?" The Livermore climate is so wonderful that practically any variety will be the "Best".

Roses will soon be available, and can be set out whenever your nurseryman gets his supply ready. As for pruning established rose bushes, you'd better wait until January.

Milk Driver Heir to Fortune

A former Burlingame High School student, now driving a milk truck in San Francisco, today took a day off from excorting his milk bottles through the early morning fog after learning last night his grandmother in Scotland had left him a fortune.

Hugh Anderson, about 24, who formerly lived at the residence of D. E. McLaughlin, 290 Richmond Rd., Hillsborough, where his mother was employed, was told Wednesday night by Walter J. Wisnom, Hillsborough police chief, that he had come into a sizeable inheritance.

Chief Wisnom received a telephone call Wednesday from George Flohr, San Francisco attorney, asking for aid in locating young Anderson.

Flohr said he had been seeking to learn Anderson's whereabouts for the "past two or three months" without success. He said Anderson's grandmother, who died 12 years ago in Glasgow, Scotland, had left her fortune to the young man.

The inheritance was supposed to be turned over to Anderson on his 21st birthday, but international complications delayed the proceedings.

Sequoia Dist. 'Y' News

The YMCA boys' club program will get under way in the Sequoia District with activities scheduled in Redwood City, San Carlos, and Menlo Park for the early part of the month and continuing on weekly basis, according to "Y" executive Kenneth T. Osman.

Two clubs, one a Gra-Y and the other a Junior Hi-Y, held their first sessions last Thursday at San Carlos Central School. Names were not selected for the clubs at this meeting.

This program will be open to all boys from the fifth through the eighth grades who wish to affiliate with a club group. Regular Thursday night activities are under the supervision of Oliver P. Eitzen, who will be assisted by Thor Madsen of San Carlos.

Gray-Y Clubs in Garfield and Washington schools in Redwood City will meet again this year under the direction of Phil Mitchell, returning leader. At Central School Bob Downs will be the leader. Initial meetings of these groups are scheduled for this week. Overflow in school attendance in the elementary schools has greatly handicapped the grounds in finding suitable meeting quarters for youngsters. First business of the clubs will be to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Charles Woodard, who has worked as building supervisor at the YMCA in Redwood City during the Summer, will assist Osman in the club work at Menlo Park in Central and Fremont Schools. Chet Lebsack, leader at the Fremont School last season, will not be available this year.

Three Father and Son groups, known as Indian Guides, have been organized in San Carlos and are holding meetings fortnightly in members homes, Osman announced. The two new groups will meet again on Oct. 11. One group will assemble at the home of Peter F. Culcasi at 11 Charlton Street while the other meets at the home of L. H. Goss, 749 Orange Avenue. Myron Greenlee of San Carlos is the chief of the Karok Tribe, forerunner of the group.

Effective this week is a change in the open periods at the YMCA building at 1234 Brewster St. in Redwood City.

Week-day hours will find the game rooms opening at 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday nights are exclusively for young adults and school youth are not admitted.

Saturday hours are as follows: Open 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p. m.

School Crossing Hazards Studied

The problem of getting school children past traffic hazards when they are going to and from classes topped business Monday before the Redwood City Traffic and Safety Commission.

School Supt. Andrew Spinas and Police Officer Henry Mengel presented the needs of the Junior Traffic Patrol and the commission decided to enlist the aid of service clubs in obtaining the money necessary to finance patrol activities.

Concerning Washington School, the commission decided to ask City Mgr. E. W. Blom to see if a police officer couldn't be assigned to the Woodside Rd. crossing on a regular basis. An effort should be made, they decided, to slow motorists. They also voted to ask the state division of highways to install some type of safety device, preferably a traffic signal, which would aid children crossing the street.

A petition was received from parents of children who will attend the new Hoover School on Charter St. near Middlefield Rd. The commission voted to ask Blom to see if an officer could also be detailed to the Middlefield and Spruce St. crossing to guard youngsters until motorists get used to being flagged down by Junior Patrolmen. The police department and the engineering department were requested to suggest some type of safety device for the same crossing.

SM Man Held On Check Charge

Orville G. Merritt, 21, 7 South Grant St., San Mateo, a scavenger, came back to the same bank just once too often. As a consequence he was in the San Mateo County Jail Wednesday.

He was arrested by Redwood City police on a charge of passing worthless checks. Police Lt. S. D. Wood said that Merritt is charged with passing three checks which totaled $366 at the First National Bank.

The three checks had been passed over an eight-day period and all were found to be fictitious.

When Merritt came back Wednesday with a fourth check he was recognized at the bank and police were called.

Cyclist Injured In Belmont Crash

Bruce Leonhardt, 11, 2014 Belle Monti Ave., Belmont, suffered head injuries Sunday afternoon when the bicycle he was riding collided into a parked car at 1220 Avon St., Belmont.

Police said that Leonhardt was riding down Alden St. at 4:30 p.m. and was making a turn onto Avon St. when his bicycle collided into the car belonging to E. S. Haile, 1220 Avon St.

Leonhardt was treated at Community Hospital and later released to his parents.

7,500,000 Seals On Sale in County

A total of 7,500,000 Tuberculosis Christmas Seals will be placed on sale in San Mateo County in a history-making drive starting Nov. 24, it was announced Tuesday by the County Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The actual goal of the 1947 seal sale will be set by the association's medical committee within the next several days. Expenses of the association have grown, officials said, because of the general rise in wages and prices, but principally because of the greatly augmented work being done through the Christmas Seal mobile X-ray laboratory.

Explaining that the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are the association's only source of revenue, they said the free X-ray campaign has been highly effective but has added to costs of the health education, diagnostic services, heart disease program, veterans service and case-finding.

Typical of services newly in demand is the chest clinic to be held next Monday for domestics and baby-sitters, they stated. The mobile X-ray laboratory makes it possible to conduct this clinic for the reassurance of both employes and parents. Appointments for X-rays may be arranged with association headquarters in San Mateo during business hours through Monday to Friday.

County Firemen Don't Have Time

San Mateo County firemen yesterday were looking for a sweet voiced girl who can give out the time of the day.

The girl was needed, they said, because since the switchover to dial telephones in Redwood City they have been getting calls intended for the girl who gives out the time.

The calls started coming in to the county fire warden's station about 6 o'clock yesterday morning and by 8 o'clock last night more than a score of such calls had been received. The firemen figure that the mixup must be in the mechanical equipment of the telephone company, since the time clock number is Rochester 7-8900, while the phone which rings is listed as Emerson 6-7146—to be used for fire calls only.

One customer, disappointed at not getting the girl's voice, still insisted on being told the time.

New County Gambling Ordinance Becomes Effective

By AL BODI

San Mateo County's two anti-racketeering ordinances became yesterday, and officers already are having twinges of the headaches which may result.

The two ordinances, hailed by the district attorney's office as laws which will outlaw alien and ex-felon ownership of potential gambling places, on closer reading do nothing of the kind.

They do, however, provide for a mass of information on owners of such places and dump responsibility for permits squarely in the ample lap of Sheriff James J. McGarth.

The ordinances were adopted a month ago by the board of supervisors, and apply only to the unincorporated areas of the county. Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan, the author of the two laws, says that he hopes the county's various municipalities will follow suit and adopt similar laws.

The more important of the two new laws is Ordinance No. 751, which has the resounding title of "An Ordinance Regulating and Licensing Card Rooms, Restaurants, News Stands, Pool Halls and/or Bowling Alleys, etc."

Its main provisions are:

1. Registration of all persons owning or having interest in any of the businesses named, together with criminal records, fingerprints, number of card tables proposed to be operated, and "other additional information deemed revelant by the sheriff."

2. A $25 annual fee.

3. Work permits for all employes of social club, card room, pool room and bowling alleys.

4. Inspection at any time of the premises by any law officer.

5. Punishment, with a maximum of $500 fine and six months in the county jail, for violations of the ordinance.

The second ordinance is numbered 752 and entitled "An Ordinance Regulating Mechanical Play Devices."

This pinball ordinance sets a $5 annual license fee for each machine, requires of the owner the same information as the other ordinance, and provides as penalty for violation confiscation of the machine.

Neither ordinance, however, specifically bars an alien or a known criminal from owning or operating any of the businesses or machines specified in the two ordinances.

All that is required is that the sheriff investigate "as he may deem proper" the applications for permits. If good cause exists, he "may deny" the granting of a license.

"The idea behind the ordinance is to put responsibility upon the enforcement officers," Sullivan said. "Nobody else can assume that responsibility."

Sullivan said that in drawing up the social club ordinance he took into consideration that a person may have served time for a crime and has been rehabilitated to civilian life.

"That should have to be considered," he declared. "It will be up to the sheriff whether he grants a person like that."

On one point, however, the ordinance is specific.

In the section referring to work permits which are required by employes in a social club, card room, pool room and bowling alley, the law reads:

"No work permit shall be issued to any person who is not a citizen of the United States of America."

That's laying it on the line and it takes no legal brain to understand the meaning.

However, as a result, the ordinance sets up machinery for a unique situation:

A non-citizen—and an ex-felon to boot—may own a social club or card room if the sheriff thinks that his character will pass muster.

However, this alien may not hire another alien to work for him.

The administration of the two ordinances is going to require adding to the staff of the sheriff. The sheriff's office believes that at least two additional deputies will be needed, and possibly also a stenographer.

In securing a license for a pool hall, card room and so forth, the applicant must place a $10 application fee with the sheriff. If he is granted a license, the $10 is refunded or made part of the $25 license which is issued by the tax collector. If the applicant is turned down, the filing fee is refunded.

When an applicant is turned down, he has the right to appeal to the board of supervisors, which after a hearing, may sustain or overrule the sheriff's decision.

Penalties also are set up for the delinquent payment of the license tax, amounting to 10 per cent of the fee for 30 days and 15 per cent for 60 days.

The ordinance reads that all permits shall expire on "the last day of the calendar quarter year in which issued." By the wording of the ordinance, it would seem that the $25 fee was quarterly and that the annual fee would be $100.

However, Sullivan said that the $25 fee is for a year and that the "quarter" is a misprint.

The most important part of Ordinance 751, according to Sullivan, is the section which permits inspection of the premises by law officers. The applicant is required to agree in writing to such inspection.

"At all times during the period of each day when said places are permitted under this ordinance to be kept open," section 18 reads . . . "the doors . . . shall be kept unlocked and the applicant hereby agrees . . . that any sheriff, or deputy sheriff, peace officer, or any constable may at all times during business hours in an orderly way pass through and inspect any portion of said business or any side room used by said applicant in connection with said business."

In the case of card rooms, only one may be operated by an individual. Non-profit, social or fraternal organizations with elected officials are exempt from the provision of the ordinance and need no license to operate.

The ordinance regulating mechanical play devices requires a statement as to the ownership of such machines. Sullivan said that the owner may apply for the $5 license, or the person on whose premises the machine is to be installed.

No license shall be transferable from one person to another, or from one machine to another machine.

RC Man Killed In SC Accident

Two fatal crashes and several minor accidents were reported in Santa Clara County over the weekend. In one of them a Redwood City pedestrian was killed on Bayshore Highway about three miles south of Palo Alto.

The man was Peter Ratto, P.O. box 224, who was struck by a car driven by Kenneth W. Bicho, 32, of San Jose about 300 feet east of Charleston Rd. intersection. Ratto was taken to the Santa Clara County Hospital by the Palo Alto ambulance service. But was pronounced dead on arrival.

State highway patrolmen Angelo Yglesias and Earl Hanna made the investigation. Bicho was not held.

Mrs. Mary Alice Starr of Redwood City was also treated and released at Palo Alto Hospital after her car struck a tree Sunday morning.

'Peaches' Trial Set for Oct. 9

Oct. 9 was set today in superior court here as the trial date of the divorce suit which Joseph S. Civelli of Hillsborough has filed against the former Peaches Browning.

The San Francisco department store executive in his complaint questions the legality of the Reno divorce awarded to Frances Browning Civelli Willson, who since has remarried.

County School Setup Plans Aired

Possible revision in the county school district set-up was discussed Saturday by George Davis, chairman of the county redistricting committee, at a meeting of the San Mateo County School Trustees Assn. held in Belmont.

Davis said that his report to the trustees was about the same as a report he gave at the San Mateo County Teachers' Institute last Spring.

Davis reported that his committee was surveying all the school districts in the county and that the committee would have its report out by July, 1948.

"It is our aim to see that all children in the county get a good education," Davis said, adding that in event of redistricting, he hoped that local pride and rivalry can be overcome.

Alfred Lentz, legal advisor of the state department of education, told the group of nearly 70 of the various school laws passed by the legislature at its recent session.

"As far as school legislation is concerned," Lentz reported, the legislature at its last session accomplished more than any other legislature in the history of the state."

Lentz mentioned that Dr. John C. Almack of Stanford University had been adopted advisor to the state senate interim committee on education. Almack recently conducted suruveys of Sequoia High School and the Redwood City Elementary Schools.

At their business meeting, the trustees reelected the present officers for the coming year. Frank Oehm of Millbrae is president of the group.

The trustees also voted to hold bimonthly meetings to discuss mutual problems.

County Supt. of Schools Pansy Jewett Abbott presided at the meeting. Among the guests were State Sen. Harry Parkman, Assemblyman Richard Dolwig of South San Francisco, Supervisors Alvin Hatch, Edward R. McDonald and Thomas I. Hickey; Mayor U. S. Simonds of Burlingame, and Mrs. Florence Strohmaier, president of the 17th Dist., PTA.
